Headline:
Dry with sunny spells. Becoming warmer.

Today:
A fine and sunny day for many in the west. Eastern areas are likely to stay dry but experience cloudier skies, but sunny spells will still be possible here, especially later on. Feeling warm in the sun. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Skies will remain relatively cloud free into the night. During the early hours thin high-level cloud will move in from the west but staying dry throughout. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Sunday:
Largely dry on Sunday, though a few showers may develop over far eastern areas in the afternoon. Variable cloudy likely, with the longest sunny spells in the east. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
After a cloudy start to Monday, sunshine likely during the afternoon. Early fog patches quickly clearing on Tuesday to leave sunny conditions. Heavy showers may arrive on Wednesday. Turning warmer.
